The Body of Secretary Gresham Taken to Oakwoods Cemetery.

CHICAGO'S SORROWFUL TRIBUTE

Two Hundred Thousand People Lined the Streets as the Funeral Cortege Passed and Crowded the Cemetery Where the Final Services Were Held.

CHICAGO May 31 -The remains of Walter Q Gresham were laid in the vault in Oakwoods cemetery yesterday afternoon, there to remain until the members of his family have decided upon a place of final interment, either in Oakwoods or in some other cemetery of Chicago General Gresham loved Chicago and the city loved him. It revealed yesterday the affection it bore him and the esteem in which it held him when fully 200,000 people lined the streets through which the funeral cortege passed wded the cemetery while the body of t. nation's premier was being placed in the resting place from which it will be taken only for the grave. Never in Chicago since the day when the dead body of Abraham Lincoln was carried through its streets has Chicago testified so fully her grief for the death of any one man. The streets and cemetery were packed with a crowd so dense that they could not be added to without suffocation. For hours before the time set for the arrival of the funeral train thousands of people stood waiting in the sun, which beat down upon them with a tropical

As the hearse passed slowly every head was uncovered in respect to the illustrious dead, and during the short services before the body was finally placed in the vanit the cometery for the distance of several hundred feet around the vault was filled by a crowd which stood without sound or motion until the last of the rites was con-

Every sphere of life which the dead had filled and adorned was represented by the side of his bier. The hands which bore his lifeless form from the car in which it had come from Washington were the hands of men who had marched and fought with him in years gone by—the men of the Loyal Legion. The men who walked before the casket as honorary pallbearers were men who had sat beside him when he graced the federal bench and upheld the nation's laws with the frank and fearless spirit in which he had upheld its honor on the battlefield. There by the door of the open vault stood Grever Cleveland, the man who holds the highest office in the gift of the American people, and there stood other men-they of the Grand Army-whose hearts were full of love and the spirit of brotherhood of Walter Q.

squadrons of the famous "fighting" Seventh cavalry, and in the background were the dark blue ranks of the Fifteenth infantry. They stood motionless at present arms, and when the last of the commitment service was over the buglars of the Seventh stepped forward, raised their bugles, and clear notes sounded "Taps." No other military honors were given, and the tributes to which the exalted rank and eminent services of the dead man so justly entitled him were, at the wish of the family, dispensed with. In fact, none were needed, for the fame of the manly man, who had shone as a soldier, a jurist and a cabinet minister, is secure with the people who leved him so well.

Immediately after the services at the tomb were concluded the president and his party took carriages and were driven to the waiting train, which started at once on the return trip to Washington. The train bearing the presidential party arrived at Woodlawn station at 2:05 o'clock and started on the return trip at 3:54. The stay of the distinguished company in Chicago was therefore less than two hours.

Secretary Morton and Secretary Carlisle did not return with the president, but will remain in the city until tomorrow afternoon, when they will return to Washington upon a special car which was cut off the train and left here for their use. Secretary Carlisle will visit the family of his son, W. K. Carlisle, 254 Dearborn avenue. With Mrs Carlisle and children he entered a carriage and was driven at once to their residence.

Drowned by a Cloudburst.

DALLAS, Tex., May 31.-A special from San Angelo tells of a disastrous cloudburst which occurred on Wednesday along the Johnson and Devil rivers. Five bodic have been recovered from "draws," which were flooded by the cloudbars, and it is feared that a number of settlers in the valleys of the two rivers have perished. Searchers have been unable to reach several large ranches in that section. The "draws," which have water in them only a short time after rains, were deluged The waters of Devil river is rushing down in a series of waves six feet high. A GREAT CYCLING EVENT

The Chicago Road Race Won by Fairmon, a Dark Horse.

CHICAGO, May 31 .- The ninth annual Chicago road race, covering a course of a fraction over eighteen miles, from the Grant monument in Lincoln Park to South Evanston and return, was run yesterday, and resulted in a victory for Homer Fairmon, of the Chicago Cycling club. There were 523 entries. Fairmon started from the 5 min. 45 sec. mark in the handicap, and made the run in the riding time of 54 min and 36 secs. Last year he rode in the same event, but fell before completing the circuit As he has not been a factor in any other races, he must be put down as a winning dark horse.

The most remarkable work of any of the riders was that of George L. Emerson, of the Englewood Cycling club, who started from the 2.30 mark and finished second in 52.14, securing the 3500 prize for best time. He was not thought capable of the ride he accomplished yesterday. In 1893 he secured third time in the Pullman road race, but since that time he has not figured prominently, excepting some fast work on the track at Rockford, Ills., in the same year. Englewood, a southern suburb of Chicago, gathered in the greater part of the honors, securing, besides the time prize, second, third and eighth places by the fast riding of Rosback, Hoffman and Frosh, respectively.

About 75,000 people viewed the start and finish, and fully 200,000 saw it throughout its length, going and coming. At the finish the scene was of unusual color for a bicycle race. The crowd was banked against the ropes in solid masses, and it required the utmost vigilance of 250 policeman to keep the excited, cheering crowd from breaking down the rope barrier and swarming upon the track. The event was probably the most brilliant ever carried out in the cycling line.

Still Breaking Cycling Records.

WALTHAM, Mass., May 31. - Murphy broke the world's record for the one mile competition paced in 2 min. 145 sec. at the Waltham track yesterday afternoon. He was paced by Mayer and Saunders on a tandem. The previous record was made by Bald, in 2.02 45, at Louisville two weeks ago. Zimmerman rode a mile against a tandem in 2.1s 1-5.

HOPE IS ABANDONED.

Only Twenty-six Saved from the Wrecked Steamer Colima.

THE FIRST REPORTS CONFIRMED.

A Survivor Says the Steamer Struck on a Reef and Began to Pound Herself to Pieces-Appulling Scenes as the Vessel Began to Sink.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31 .- As further particulars are being received concerning the Colima disaster the outlook for the passengers and crew not already reported saved is very poor. The Pacific Mail last night received a dispatch from its agent at Manzanillo, saying that the Colima foundered, going down astern, sinking entirely in ten minutes. A still later dispatch reads: "Colima sunk in 130 fathoms. Steamer we sent last night found nobody alive. Three cabin passengers and two sailors got ashore at Coahuayana alive. Until now twenty-six persons saved."

The Pacific Mail officers now admit that there is hardly any chance of other passengers being saved. - The fact that the steamer sank in ten minutes would indicate that only a few of the people on board got away. A dispatch from Colima, Mexico, says that a special messenger has arrived there with official information for the governor of Colima regarding the Colima disaster. According to this statement a hurricane was encountered seventy-five miles below San Blas, and it was debated as to whether or not the ship should attempt to gain partial shelter in the shallow and treacherous Bandias bay, which has reefs near its entrance, or whether it were better to

One Mexican passenger, Don Matias Moreno, says the report was about on the deck, and he testifies that while cautiously steering for what to all appearances was the usual entrance a slight tremble was felt to go through the ship. It was so faint that it was hardly apparent to the trained senses of the pilots and captains. The captain ordered a slight change in the course, and gave other directions which were obeyed by the officers and crew.

In a very few seconds after the keel grounded on a rock lightly, and there was at once great excitement among the officers and crew, and fear on the part of the few passengers on deck. Following the danger signal the great ship crunched on an unknown reef, and a shudder ran through the hull from bow to stern.

The passengers sprang from their berths in terror and ran out on the decks, screaming and praying in a paroxysm of fear as the awful truth began to burst upon them. The wind bowled and a dense pall of fog hung over the ship as she was tossed by the surges and began to pound herself to pieces on the rocks. She rose and fell three times, and then a crash was heard. This was followed by silence for the space of a quarter of a minute, during which time only low sobbing was heard tain, after a short interval, in which another crash was heard from beneath the water. The boats had previously been made ready, with all the life savers placed at convenient places, although covered from the view of nervous passengers, Within three minutes of the first crash in the hull, the ship began to reel from its upright balance, to settle, and to sink in its free hinder part. The scenes about the lifeboats were indescribable. According to all the testimony obtainable the panic stricken passengers and the ship's crew struggled for first place, although to the credit of the crew be it said only a few of the sailors or ship's meople lost their presence of mind, but gave their main attentions to saving the passengers. There were a number of children on the passenger list, and one of these was pitched overboard into the frothing sea by a trenzied father, who aimed for one of the liteboats while still moon the davits A woman of evident wealth and refinement among the passengers, whose name is thought to be Broslyn, or Crosslyn, displayed remarkable presence of mind, and in the most trying moments passed among theirenzied throng exhorting the people to keep quiet, and taking particular care of the women and children. Some of the passengers, not willing to await the chance of a place in the boats, seized the life belts and boldly cast themselves into the sen, to their almost universal fate, as they were tossed lifelessly upon the waves or dashed against the rocks, which were easily observed from the fast sinking ship. The first boat to be lowered with its heavy burden of humanity succeeded in clearing the ship's sides, but was swept away by the mighty force and swallowed by the night fog. Of this load only one of the sailors is known to have escaped the engulfing flood which swept over the boat within five minutes after it was launched. A similar fate befell all the other boats, with one exception.

Partner and Assets Missing.

St. Louis, May 30 .- A. W. Wright has been missing since last Thursday under circumstances which lead Clarence D. Warner, his partner, to believe he has got away with nearly all the cash and valuable property belonging to the firm. On Thursday it is said that Wright left ostensibly for Kansas City on business for the firm. Mr. Warner told a reporter that Wright took with him $200,000 in negotiable bonds and warranty deeds to valuable lands. Since then nothing has been heard from him. Warner claims he will lose $100,000 if the missing man is not found and forced to disgorge.

Prior to the declaration of the republic, it is stated, a French cruiser visited Tainsui, and two of her officers had a secret interview with Tang. No importance, however, is attached to this fact.

A petition has been forwarded to Pekin from south China, praying the emperor to introduce constitutional reform, to re move incapable officials, to abolish the queue (pigtail) and foot binding, and to allow freedom of speech and of the press.

Hostilities at Formosa Island. Hone Kone, May 31.—Hostilities have commenced at Formosa. Private advices received here are to the effect that the Japanese are bombarding Kee-Lung, a town in the extreme north of Formosa. It is believed here that the bombardment is being carried on by the fleet of the Japanese now supposed to be at sea in the vicinity of Tamsui.

The Rebellion in Cuba.

HAVANA, May 31 .- A detachment of fifteen Spanish soldiers near Sagua de Tanamo, province of Santiago de. Cuba, was attacked by a band of 300 insurgents. The soldiers were compelled to seek refuge within a wooden building, where they made a gallant defense. One sergeant and five privates were wounded. The insurgents lost one killed, and had sixteen wounded. A number of insurgents, commanded by Campanione, recently attacked a fort at Campechuela, near Manzanilla province of Santiago de Cuba. The insurgents fired upon the fort for two hours without any result. Important documents found upon the persons of two prisoners are understood to compromise several persons hitherto unsuspected of having been in communication with the insurgents.

Killed by Heat in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 31 -Yesterday was the hottest day Chicago has ever known in the month of May. Quite a number of prostrations were reported. Nellie Sullivan and Richard McDonald. All will recover except Jacobs, who is in a critical condition.

Keenan Won the Brooklyn Derby. NEW YORK, May 31.-About 8,000 people went down to Gravesend track yesterday to watch the racing and a good card had been provided for the sport. The chief event on the card was the Brooklyn derby. in which Counter Tenor and Keenan were about equal favorites. At the turn into the stretch all but these two had given it up and it looked as if Keenan could not run much further. Counter Tenor was leading at the last eighth, but Lamley paid so much attention to the horse behind him that he allowed Counter Tenor to rush to the outside of the track and there fore lost the race, as Keenan ran straight and won. # THE BLUE AND THE GRAY

Dedication of the Confederate Monument at Chicago.

A TOUCHING REUNION OF HEARTS.

The Roses of the North and the Orange Blossoms of the South Bedeck Alike the Graves of Those Who Fought Bravely

CHICAGO, May 31.-In one corner of Oakwoods cemetery there have stood for years / many rows of short white stones which mark the last resting places of 6,000 men who in the days between '61 and '65 wore the Confederate gray, and who, far from their homes and friends, scaled with their lives their devotion to the "Lost Cause." Today there stands above these lowly stones of white a tall and beautiful monument erected partly by the sons of the southland and partly by men of the north to testify—the one their love for their gallant comrades fallen in the fight, and the other to the respect which heroic endurance and brilliant courage must always evoke when it is based, as was the endurance and courage of the men who sleep in Oakwoods, upon a firm conviction of justice of the cause for which they strove.

Yesterday above those grass grown mounds the grizzled voterans of the Grand Army of the Republic and the white baired warrior of the south clasped hands and re-alized that the war is over. The roses of the north fell in profusion upon the graves of the Confederate dead, and over the resting places of many of those who were the blue were scartered the magnelia blossoms of the south and by the hands of those who had ficroely sought in battle the lives of the silent sleepers who lay below.

The dedication of the Confederate monument yesterday marked such a blending. or rather such an eradication of the two great sections, as the nation has rarely seen before. Side by side with the men who sent Pickett's brave Virginians against Gibbon's wall of steel on Cemetery ridge stood the men who stoutly hurled back Hood's mad charges at Franklin-Longstreet and Schofield. Elbow to elbow stood the men who led the best blood of the south behind the guidons of Stuart and he who was the cavalier par excellence of Sheridan's famous cavalry-Pitzbugh Lee, Hampton and Wesley Mer-

There were present any number of other men who had borne their part nobly and with distinction, and others of the rank and file who fought as bravely and marched as well, but found no glory save that which hung around the colors of the army in whose ranks they fought. These men, who so often had stood against each other in the shock of buttle, stood yesterday with eyes dimmed with tears while the cannon which had borne their part on both sides of the fratricidal struggle, and which will now stand around the monument, were spiked and forever silenced by the hands of their women.

This was the most impressive portion of the ceremonies—that of monumenting the guns. The four cannons used in the ceremony formed part of a Federal battery during the war. They were captured from the Union forces in the battle of Murfreesboro, and afterwards fought on the Confederate side in the battles of Missionary Ridge, Resaca, Dalton, Kenesaw Mountain, Peach Tree Creek, Atlanta and Franklin. They were recaptured by the Federals at the battle of Nashville, and did service for the Union side during the remainder of the war.

There was love and tears for all-for Federal and Confederate, friends and foe. There were flowers and garlands for all, and if in the chance of war the men in blue had won the laurel while the willow was left for those in gray, no one perceived any distinction in the honors given to the memories of the departed warriors. Laurel and willow were intertwined, and, so enwreathed, were laid on grave and hung on monument, and no one asked when decorating each grassy mound what uniform he wore who rested beneath.

The "Back of Chickamauga." CHICAGO, May $1.-General George

Thomas Post, G. A. R., dedicated a unique and appropriate monument in Rosehill cemetery yesterday to the memory of the great soldier whose name the post bears. The monument is a great rock of granite signifying the "Rock of Chickamauga," the title which General Thomas earned at that famous engagement. The monument is Il teet 9 mehes high, and weighs $3,000 pounds. A notable feature of the journey into the cemetery was the welcome which the ex-Confederates received at the gate, where they were met by the George if. Thomas Post, which wheeled about and escerted them to the monument.

A Monument to Secretary Rusk. Vinoqua, Wis., May 31.-The monu-

THE ORIGIN OF A CUSTOM.

How the First American Girl Came to Marry a Foreigner.

The mighty chief Powhatan sat on his tanbark throne and waited for the procesion to appear. It was to be a long pro cession, for its loading feature was Captain John Smith of England, and Powhatan proposed in his noble, aboriginal mind to make the time of his passing a given point extremely indefinite, not to say permanent. In the words of a later historian, "Powhatan was layin fer John with a club". True, he was not in conealment, ready to spring upon the unsuspecting captain and sandbag him, so to peak, for the captain more than suspected that he was persona non grata to the mighty chief and was aware that at the hour appointed he was to be brought before Powhatan, and then and there, at a given signal, to lay his head upon a stump in order to facilitate the chief's purpose in getting rid of him with promptness and Presently the enlivening notes of the James River Falls brass band were heard in the distance, and the old chief's face, before frowning at the uncalled for delay. broke into a scraphic smile, and he toyed with his club merrily.

"What air plays the band?" inquired the chief of his private secretary.
"I believe, see, it is called 'Goodby,

"How much better," sighed Powhatan.

'than 'Johnnie Get Your Gin,' or some other of those seditions and insurrectionary tunes the band was accustomed to play before we scalped the leader!"

Powhatan smiled grimly, and the private secretary bowed with grave deference. The music of the band sounded nearer, and the shouts of the Algonquin Light infantry were wafted in on the soft Virginia air A few more moments of impatient waiting, and the procession filed down before the tanbark throne.

Powhatan stood up in all his fuss and feathers, and he looked like an October sunset with fringe on it.

Captain Smith had halted directly in front of the chief, and he gazed deflantly at the vermilion landscape before him. "Good morting, John," said Powbatan in the hospitable tones of the old Virginian

"How are you, Black-and-tan—excuse me — Powhatan," responded Captain Smith, with the bluff cordiality of the Englishman. The chief's face reddened, but it didn't show through "Thanks," he said. "I'm ready for busi-

"Reddy is good." smiled Captain Smith, noting Powhatan's war paint, but Powhatan was not a subscriber to Punch and this witty sally of the Englishman fell un-

"I presume," he continued as he bal anced his cordwood stick in his hand with graceful ease, "that you know what you are here for

"I fancy," replied the captain with charming naivete and bonhomie, "that I am to take the stump and join your campaign club "

'You guessed it the first time." smiled the chief. 'But a truce to such airy fairy persiflage,' he added 'Take your place' Captain Smith was conducted to the stump at the foot of the throne, and Pow hatan jauntily stepped to his side, twirling his club as the policemen do on pleasant summer afternoons as they stroll along.

"This pillow," laughed the captain as he placed his head on the stump in several positions in order to find a comfortable one, "reminds me of the pillow I had in the Pullman coming up here." "It's soft enough for my purpose," growled Powhatan for the first time showing his anxiety to get his work in The chief braced linn-elf sighted along his club to get the proper distance the band played "Annie Laurie," and he drew back his formidable weapon.

A silence, broken only by the mournful music of the band fell upon the scene, but it was for an instant only then a wild cry pierced the stillness, accompanied by a swish of pettieouts, and a fair girl stood between the captain and the club.

"Oh popper," cried Pocahontas, for it was she the chief's beautiful daughter. "Oh, popper, what are you going to do" "Back, gul," he shouted, "back I say, or you'll get it in the neck, sure." "Nav, nav, popper," she pleaded in sweet, cajoling tones, "I shall not back. You know not what you are about to do."

"Stand from under for a minute, and you will see if I don t," the chief answered sullenly as he let his chib fall by his side. "But I tell you," she insisted, "that you don't "
"Why don't Is"

"Because you don't "

"Because me no becauses, girl," thundered Powhatan, reaching for his club "Have you no other reason than a woman's reason"

"Being a woman," she replied haughtily, "I don't have to have "
"Now, Pokie," said Powhatan caressingly "you get out of this and give your papa a chance " "No, pupper." she responded as sho threw her plump and tawny arm around the neck of the captive captain, "I came here to give Captain Smith a chance and to give every American girl for all time to come, a chance," she added in almost tragic tones

"Come off," he growled.

"No, popper," she persisted, "Mr Smith must come off—off of that stump Will it be necessary for me to give you a map and a diagram before you will understand that Captain Smith is a foreigner, that I am an American girl of maritageable age and that the entente cordiale between the two must and shall be preserved. Don't you know that you owe something to posterity and the future social conditions of this great and glorious republic. Pepper, popper," she pleaded, "can to ou see that your Pocahontas is endeavoring to establish a precedent that will stand for all time?"

Powhatan hesitated. A light as of a new day was breaking in upon his aborigual per eption. 'Old man," exclaimed Captain Smith.

Miss Peck Will Attempt the Ascent of the Perilous Matterhorn. Thirty years ago the summit of the Matterhorn had never been touched by a human foot, but now the ascent of this lofty and dangerous peak is often accomplished, and Miss Annie S. Peck, a plucky American woman, is about to brave the perils of the snow capped Alpine sentinel. Miss Peck is a resident of

MISS ANNIE S. PECK.

Providence and is a scholar of unusual erudition and a lecturer of considerable note. She was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1878, spent some time in study in Germany and attended the American school of archæology in Athens. While studying in Athens in 1885 and 1886 she ascended Hymettus and Pentelicus, and the experience was so fascinating that she has since become an ardent devotee of the health giving and instructive pastime of mountain climbing.

After her return from Europe Miss Peck was professor of Latin in Smith college for a time and then began lecturing on the art and archaeology of ancient and modern Greece. She has spoken before the National Geographic society, the American Geographical society and many colleges, institutes; clubs and schools. In 1888 during a trip to California she added to her fame as a mountain climber by clambering to the very top of Mount Shasta, a distance of 18,-000 feet. She is said to have been the first woman to accomplish the undertaking. She has done considerable other mountain climbing, is possessed of excellent health, strength and conrage and believes she will succeed in Ler ambition to stand on the summit of the mighty Matterhom.

The Matterhorn is a mountain of the Pennine Alps between Switzerland and Italy and is 14,835 feet high. It is one of the grandest peaks in the world and the most difficult to climb On July 14, 1865, Edward Whymper, the famous mountain climber, after eight unsuccessful attempts at last won the honor of first mastering the precipitous sides of the Matterhorn. He was accompanied by Lord Francis Donglas, Rev Charles Hudson, Douglas Robert Hadow and three guides, Michael Croz. Peter Tang-walder and Peter Tangwalder, Jr. In descending Hadow lost his nerve and his footing, and Hudson Crez and Douglas, who were fastened to the same rope were dragged with hum. Whymper and the two other guides clinic desperately to the rocks and safely with-tood the shock of the tightening rope, but the rope broke, and Hudson, Hadow, Croz and Douglas fell 4,000 feet down the precipice and were dashed to pieces.

It is stated that in one week of last year one rathoad resued to members of the New York legislature for themselves and friends 158 passes.

The Portland Vase.

Glassmakers at an early day, even beforc the Christian era, arrived at so great a degree of shill and proficiency as to more than rival anything within the range of medern art. Among the antiques which have been preserved the Portland vase holds first place. For more than two centuries it was the principal ornament of the Barberini palace. Pellat, in his work on the incrustation of glass, says of the Portland vase. "It was found about the middle of the sixteenth century, inclosed in a marble sarcophagus, within a sepulchral chainber, under the Monte del Garno, 214 miles from Rome, in the road to Frascati. It is oinamented with white opaque figures in bas relief upon a dark transparent ground. The subject has not heretofore received a satisfactory elucidation, but the design, and more specially the execution, are admirable. The whole of the blue ground, or at least the part below the handles, must have orig mally been covered with white enamel. out of which the figures have been sculptured in the style of a cameo, with most astomshing skill and labor "

The Duche's of Portland became the purchaser of the celebrated viewhich bears her nonce at a price of nearly $10,000. Wedgewood was permitted to take a mold from the vase, and he disposed of many copies, in his rich china, at a price of $250 cach - Boston Herald.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

A Day of Veto Messages-Senator Quay at the Capital.

HARRISBURG, May 31 .- Joint Memorial Day exercises were held yesterday in the hall of the house of representatives. The affair was in charge of the old soldiers' organization -ticipated in · legislature, and was par-members of both bodies. was tastefully decorated The chamb with flags, banners and flowers. The exercises continued over an hour.

At the close of the exercises the senate retired and the house proceeded to the consideration of the local and special bills on second reading. The calendar was cleared and the afternoon and evening sessions devoted to appropriation bills, a large number being passed.

The afternoon session of the house adjourned fifteen minutes earlier than usual so that the members might pay their respects to Senator Quay, who reached this city in the afternoon from his home in Beaver. Senator Quay expects to remain in the city over Sunday. His visit is understood to be for the purpose of conferring with his friends in the legislature and urge them not to permit the passage of the apportionment bills.

Governor Hastings sent two veto mes-sages to the house. The first relates to house bill limiting the duration of the lien of taxes against real estate. It is vetoed because such a law would, in the opinion of the governor, be very burdensome on all persons whose interest it is to determine the amount of incumbrances upon real estate. The second vote of the bill "authorizing appeals to be made in equity cases of account where the liability to account is in issue from the preliminary order or decree of court requiring an account," is sent in because a better bill on the same subject, the governor says, which was introduced in the senate is in process of passage through the assembly. Owing to the joint memorial services in the hall of the house the senate did very little business. Before these services were begun a large number of bills were re-ported from committee. Several vetoes were received from the governor. Among the bills disapproved was one granting about $2,500 to Felix C. Negley, of Allegheny, for recruiting services during the war. The governor also vet the bill to pay for the electric light and tent for the World's fair rooms in this city, granolithic pavement for the Capitol park, etc. Another veto was of the concurrent resolution for the payment of over $20,000, in possession of the state, to the unpaid laborers employed in the construction of the Wernersville Hospital for the Chronic Insane, and the men who furnished materials for the building. The governor holds that the German-American Title and Trust company, of Philadelphia, has a claim which takes precedence over that of the laborers and material men.

Great Britain and the Turk. LONDON, May 31.—In the house of commons Fir William Harcourt, the government leader, replied to the attack upon the government's foreign policy by Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlett, who has been an active champion and defender of the Turkish government against charges of atrocities in Armenia. Sir William Harcourt admitted that the government was acting conjointly with France and Russia. regarding Armenia, but denied that it had allied itself with these powers as against Germany or other leading nations. The government, he said, desired to act in unity with all the powers.

Two other young men were hadly bruised and scalded, but will recover. The fireman had recklessly weighted down the safety valve. The mill for some reason had been stopped temporarily, and all six were standing in a group near the boiler when it exploded.

Governor Morton Overcome by Heat. NEW YORK. May 31.-While Governor Morton was reviewing the parade of the Grand Army of the Republic at the stand in Madison Square yesterday he was so overcome by the intense heat that he fainted and fell, striking his head against a rough scantling of the reviewing stand. On returning to consciousness he again attempted to stand up, but was obliged to retire to his hotel, with ex-President Har rison, leaving Mayor Strong to review the parade. Later in the day both the governor and General Harrison appeared at the exercises at the Grant monument, where Governor McKinley was the orator of the

THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MID-DLETOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middle-one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

Tuesday, June 4th,

If you are incurable they will tell you; therefore invalids must not take offence if they are rejected, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral certainty of a cure being effected. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and of the best universities of hidrope and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had unlimited experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are femilianted. and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is reasonable to believe that in ninety cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected, even when the patients have been given up as incurable by doctors who have had less experience. Do not be discouraged because your doctor can-not give you relief, or even if he tells: you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your disease may be, you can consult the doctors free, and, if curable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you such advice as will tend to prolong life and afford you the greatest relief,

The doctor visits Middletown one day each month. Will be at 21 Broom street, Port Jervis, Wednesday, June 5th. Office hours from 10:30 a m, to 6 p, m.

● EORGE H. THOMPSON, -EDITORS - CITY EDITOR J. F. ROBINSON, - Business Manager A. E. NICKINSON,

FRIDAY, MAY 31, 1895.

Some Republican papers are attempting to excuse the high tax rate by saying that the new constitution laid certain burdens of expense upon convention was, however, a Republican body, and shifting the responsibility from the extravagant and discredited legislature to the incompe tent and blindly partisan convention excuses and palliates nothing. The responsibility still remains with the Republican party.

Experienced politicians realize that the Republican Convention in Ohio gave McKinley's Presidential aspirations a black eye. The candidate for Governor is Foraker's man, who will dispense the patronage of the State government in Foraker's interest, and the State Committee is absolutely controlled by Foraker's friends. A cold and perfunctory resolution, making vague reference to McKinley's Presidential aspirations, was the only sop thrown to the tariff tinkerer.

Superintendent of Public Works Aldridge boasted when he took office that he "would make the canals Reson." He has kept his word, but cut | 30th. off Democratic heads so recklessly and so favored the Platt faction in the making of appointments that he brought down on himself the wrath of the civil service reformers, and they have forced the Civil Service Commission to investigate his appointments. The Civil Service Commission is controlled by Republicans and nothing will therefore come of the investigation. Nothing ever did come of an investigation of a Republican by Republicans.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Skinner leads a movement, in which many of the foremost educators of the State have joined, against executive approval of the bill providing for an elaborate system of instruction in the public schools of the State on the effects of alcohol and narcotics on the human system. The objections to the bill are that it is absolutely unnecessary since there is a law covering the same ground; that it provides for undue attention to this special subject; that by forcibly introducing text books, it entails unnecessary expense and does away with oral instruction, which in many schools is found to yield most excelient results; and that, by imposing | sugar personal liability on trustees for any failure to comply with its requirements, it will make good men unwilling to serve as trustees. The case against the bill is summed up in the statement that it will be productive of no good and will work hardship to trusties, to parents and pupils.

> GREAT DAY FOR THE TRACTION COMPANY.

Its Cars Carry Over 15,000 People Decoration Day

Yesterday was a great day for the Traction Company. Every available car was pressed into service and all were crowded from early in the morning until after midnight.

The car registers showed that the road carried 15,530 people during the day and night and it speaks well for the management that not an accident of any kind occurred.

At one time there were sixteen cars in use and even the express car was brought out and carried a load of 150 people to the Campbell track.

OUR COUNTRY'S DEAD.

Remorial Day Fittingly Observed in Middletown-Many Do Honor to the Soldier Bead-The Parade-Exercises at Hillside Cemetery, the Casino and Phillipsburgh.

Ysterday was the hottest Memorial Day that Middletown has known in many years, yet despite the heat, the G. A. R., Posts, the S. of V. Camps and the 24th Separate Company turned out with full ranks to do honor to the memories of the nation's dead, and many citizens gathered at the cemetery and the Casino to listen to exercises conducted by Capt. Jackson and Gen. Lyon Posts.

Early in the morning, the Floral Committee visited St. Joseph's and Hillside cemeteries and decorated the soldiers' graves, which they had previously marked with flags. After the parade a detail of G. A. R. men visited Pine Hill Cometery and decorated the graves of their dead comrades there.

The parade started promptly at 9 o'clock, from Franklin Square, head ed by the Marshal of the Day, B S. Dayton, and his aids, Messrs, H. Terwilliger and Romaine Sitser. The following organizations were in line in the order indicated:

Marshal of the Day, B. S., Dayton, and Aids, 24th Separate Company Band, 24th Separate Company Gen. Lyon Post. No. 286, Dept. of N. Y. Capt. Wm. A. Jackson Post. No. 391, Dept. of N. Y. Dewitt Camp. Fife and Drum Corps. Gen. D. P. Dewitt Camp. Sons of Veterans, No. 37 Beyea's Drum Corps.

Gen. Custer Camp. Sons of Veterans, No. 93. Mayor and Aldermen in carnages. Speakers and Clergy in carriages. Gen. Lyon Post. Woman's Relief Corps, No. 189 Capt. Wm. A. Jackson Post Relief Corps, No. 130 Lantes' Aid Society Childrenof PublicSchools.

The line of march. Was. as follows:

The line of march was as follows: Forming on Franklin Square, the right resting on West Main street, North street to Railroad avenue. Railroad avenue to Grove street, Grove street to Wickham avenue, Wickham avenue to Highland avenue, Highland avenue to Hanford street, Hanford street to West Main street, West Main street to Mulberry street, Mulberry street to Hillside Cemetery.

Arriving at the cemetery, the organizations formed a hollow equare near the Wilkes avenue entrance. The services were conducted by Capt. Jackson Post, and the G. A. R. ritual was read by Commander Geo. W. Reed. Prayer was offered by Chaplain Squire Lee, after which "America" was sung by the school cail dren, under the direction of Mrs. J. F. Tuthill.

The 24th Separate Company Band played a dirge, which was followed by further ritualistic services and singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," by the school children. Three volleys were then fired by the 1st company of the 24th Separate Company, in command of Second Lieutenant J. D. Stivers, and the exercises were closed by the bugle call "retreat," and the benediction, pronounced by Rev. Dr. W. A. Robinson,

The return march was then taken up, the 24-h escorting the G.A R

AT THE CASINO.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Chaplain C. M. Winchester, followed by a selection by a quartette consisting of Misses Julia Tyriell. soprano, and Annie Campbell, contraito; V. Youngman, tenor, and Ernest T. Winchester, basso. The G. A.R. ritual was read and after another vocal selection, the orator of the day, Herbert Gedney, Esq., delivered an able and eloquent address, full of patriotiem and enthusiasm and admirably fitted for the occasion. His remarks were greeted wi h many hearty outbursts of applause, and the address is pronounced by all to have been one of the best ever heard in this city on similar occa-

AT PHILLIP BURGH.

At Phillipsburgh Cemetery the exerciaes were in charge of Gen. Lyon Post. The members of the Post with Gen Cueter Camp and the DeWitt Camp Drum Corps rode to Midway on the electric cars and marched from there to the Cemetery.

The exercises consisted of the regular Grand Army ritual services, addresses by Commander D. L Keeler, Capt. E. S. Merrill, of DeWitt Camp, and Chaplain Winchester, of Gen. Lyon Post; a funeral dirge by DeWitt Camp Drum Corps; the benediction by Chaplain Winchester, and the firing of a military salute by Gen. Custer Camp, S. of V. NOTES

-During the ceremonies at the cemetery, considerable excitement was caused by a horse which was attacked with blind staggers. Another vehicle had a front wheel wrecked against a terrace. No one was injured in either case.

-The 24th Separate Company marched in a battalion formation of three companies in command of Second Lieutenant J. D. Stivers and Surgeon M.C. Ashley, and First Sergeant A. L. Decker, Capt. McIntyre acted as Major and First Lieutentant L. S. Stivers as Adjutant.

-Many business places and residences along the line of march displayed flags and buating. -The soldiers' monument in Thrall Park was beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants.

-A handsome new flag floated from the pole in Thrall Park. Memorial Service at the Assembly

THE WHEELMEN'S MEET.

Fair Attendance and Very Fine Sport-Not Allowed to Compete for the Orange County Championship-The surprise of the Meet-The summary.

The Middletown Wheelmen's meet at the Campbell track, yesterday, at. tracted a crowd which filled the grand stand and the shady portion of the "lawn" in front of it. A number sat in carriages about the field. but the attendance was not nearly as large as it should have been when the excel ence of the racing is taken into consideration.

The judges were called upon to decide upon the eligibility of P. H. Johnson, of this city, who was entered to compete in the Orange County races. His case had been presented, on the ground of non-residence, to the official racing board of the League of American Wheelmen, and the secretary of that board forwarded a letter stating trat the man could not start in the Orange County events, but was eligible to start in the open events.

The ride protested against the decision, but was not allowed to start in the Orange County races, and he refused to start in the open events.

The fifth race, one mile open, was won by Chas. M, Ertz, in 2:43, but as there was a time limit of 2:40, the contestants were obliged to race over again in order to secure the prizes. The time in the second heat was 2:371/4. and was won by Ertz.

The surprise of the day was in the sixth race, when Clarence S. Hulse beat his field easily, riding a last year's road wheel, and not having trained for the race at all.

AN UNSIGNED WILL.

The doctor opened the creaking wooden gate. It was half past 9 on a clear frosty winter night, and he was five miles from home, and cold and hungry.
"How is she?" he said to the gaunt, grim old woman who opened the door. "I don't know. Better see yourself. I'm no doctor," was the rough reply.

The room was low and mean, but the woman who lay on the bed struggling with death had a coquettish air that clashed with her age. Perhaps it came from the real lace on her nightcap, perhaps from the valenciennes that encircled her shriveled brown throat, or maybe the golden fringe, which, too young for the shrunken face, gave it to

"Amaryllis," said the surly woman, 'here's the doctor."

The humble country practitioner stepped forward, and even in the dim lamplight could be seen the flanuel cuffs, hiatus of gray stocking between old tronsers and clumsy boots, frayed linen twofold collar, silver watch chain and greasy, ready made tie that betrayed the small local practice.

"Amaryllis, wake up. wake up. Doctor's here. God knows you've called enough for him."

The woman on the bed, whose name seemed a jest, opened her heavy, vague eyes, coughed faintly and grouned.

"Is'it Dr. Watson, Janet:" she asked. "Of course! There's none other for miles," was the testy reply.

Dr. Watson went through the orthodox farce of feeling pulse and taking temperature, but saw at a glance that she was at the last whirl in her dance of death. "Has she made her will?" he asked

However, Amaryllis caught the words, and in a cracked scream of excitement

"That's it. That's it, doctor. I want to make a will. I can't die easy. Janet, get him pen and ink. "

"It's nonsense, doctor," said Janet. 'Let her die in peace. She need make no will-she's no kith nor kin but me, her sister."

"Put the pillow under my head, both pillows, "called the patient. "I'm choking! Yes, that's it. Now, doctor, for God's mercy do what I ask-Janet will let me—or I can't die easy."

Janet's face grew black with anger. "She's not fit to make a will, and I'm all she has in the world." said she. "Listen, listen, doctor! I'm in my mind; I can't die easy. It's short enough-£3,000 and the cottage to Janet, the rest to Charles Haiford, now on the training ship, the Monarch."

The doctor took out a stylographic pen and picked up from the fender an old letter, on only one side of which there was writing

"Stop, stop!" said Janet "She's mad There's no such person. Ask her who

"God forgive me," groaned Amarylhs. "I'll die happier if some one knows. I've been a wicked woman ''

The dector sprinkled some can de cologue on her head from a curious old -ther bottle that stood on a chair by the bedside and gave her something to drink out of a medicine bottle. Then with desperate energy the old woman told her story, despite the efforts of death to check her speech *"Pather and mother were cruel, good people, and I was a blithe young woman that hated church and psalms and dull Sunday books, so when he came, Frank Harford, the hand-ome sailor, he had my heart for the asking. They would none of his addresses, for he wasn't a God fearing man, they said, so off we went with no blessing from parson, but a curse from father. It lasted for ten years well enough. I had a little house not in cold Norfolk, but here in this village, and he passed as my brother when on land, for he was most while at see However, the time came. I was older than he by some years and fretted for his absence—yes, and drank a bitso he grow tried, but didn't break with me, was afraid to, I think-God knows why. Then her face caught him-Mary's, tho coast guardsman's daughter He kept it from me, but the village gossiped. He meant to marry her and cast me off. How I hated her, poor thing! I knew hun well enough, handsome devil! He'd have married her because he thought no other wav would do, and I yowed he should not marry her nor any but me, and me he wouldn't. I asked her to the house, and he counted her before my face and thought me a blind

"One night, his brithday, I had her to supper and got down fi m London some champigue. She was to stay the night, home was so far off and the weather rough. The little fool, the little ignorant fool, believed that the champagne-never before seen in our village-was only fine eider and drank her share, and he was boisterous at the est. Then I went out on a pretext, saying I'd be back in an hour. The next day she i in away with him. Confound her! I never saw him again."

At this point Amaryllis seemed to break down, but after dozing for a few minutes she continued in a faint voice; "He left her soon enough and went to sca, leaving her and the baby to shift as they might. Me he dropped after that might. We'd a fearful quarrel, for he guessed that I'd schemed it all. Five yous later he wrote, said he had 'found' God' and married a rich woman and wanted to make amends. He'd always kept me well enough, for his father left him £3,000 and this cottage-he'd set-

In a few minutes Dr. Watson had finished the short will and read it to Amaryllis. Janet sat grimly on the black horsehair sofu and did not offer to raise her sister to sign.

"Come, Miss Webster," he said impatiently, "one mustn't lose time." She did not move.

"What about witnesses?" she asked.
"I'll be one," in answered, "you" "Not me," she replied hastily, "that would make my legacy bad-I know that. Father was a lawyer."

The doctor knew this was true and was at once vested and perplexed.

"To ease her"— he said. "It's no use," she broke in, "I'll not, Will she last three parts of an hour? I can get to Mr. Trelois, our nearest neighbor, in the time, and bring him." Dr. Watson booked at his patient.

"Yes, perhans an hour, but be quick." Janet put on an old black hat that looked like a bonnet flattened for country wear and a rough shawt of sham Shetland fleece, opened the door, letting in more of the cold air than was necessary, and went out, slamming it heavily.

The doctor sat down by the bedside, then recollected he was hungry, and as Amaryllis did not answer his request rummaged in an unlocked cupboard and found some tread and cheese, which he ate ravenously, moistening it with some brandy that he found in a bottle by the bedside, despite his strict orders against alcohol in any form. He made up the fire and sat in front of it, longing to smoke till its genial warmth crept gently through him and sleep overcame the poor man, who had walked five and twenty miles that day on his ill paid rounds The noise of the opening of the door awoke him, and, con-cience stricken, he hastened to the bed. Amaryllis was still alive, but on the very limits of the borderland. There was still time. He turned to Janet. "There's just life," he said. "Bring him in quickly. "

"He's not with me," she replied stoldly. "He was out." Dr. Watson looked at his watch. "It's two hours since you started,

A bright idea came into the doctor's muud.

"Sign as witness," he said. "If the legacy is bad, it does not matter. You'll get it just the same as next of kin." "Do you think I didn't know that?"

replied Janet, with a hoarse laugh. "'Then you've never been to Mr. Trelois?" shouted the doctor. "You"-"I'm not such a fool," she answered grimly. "But, oh, it was cold in the garden!" As she spoke she came close to the fire, which glowed impartially on her rugged, dingy face.

"D--!" said the doctor passionately. "I'll go myself. It may not be too late."

He started up, and his chair fell. Amaryllis opened her empty eyes, then a look of intelligence came into her ashen face. The doctor had nearly reached the door, when in a tone half whisper, half -hrick, she called out: "Doctor, don't leave me before it's made!'' He turned, saw her sitting up, but as he moved toward her she fell back, and the nightcap came off, showing the scanty gray hair to which the golden fringe was fastened.

"Too late," said the doctor, feeling for the beating of the heart. "Too late;

"I'm an honest woman," answered Janet, "and I've no sympathy with other people's by blows "-Exchange.

WHAT MR. KRAEMER SAYS OF "BACO-CURO."

ATLANTIC, Iowa Feb 4, 1895.
This is to certify that x. F.D. Kraemer, of Atlantic, Iowa, was an inveterate smoker of eignrettes for more than two years.

About eight weeks ago I bought three boxes of "Baco-Curo." I began taking it according to directions, and after taking one and one-half boxes, all the desire for cigarcutes left me, and I have had no destre since. I can heartily recommend "Baco-Curo" to all who are slaves to the cigarette habit or tobac-

Lean heartily recommend "Baco-Curo" to all who are slaves to the cigarette habit or tobacco habit in any form, and are in search of a cure. I had become so under the influence of cigarettes, I could not remember anything could not study, unless under the influence of the drug, which is death in the end, if kept up.

Cigarettes are sapping the lives out of more boys and young men to-day, than anything that is known to the world. Boys, before it is too late get some of this remedy that killed tho craving for cigarettes in me and save your young life. Restore yourself to manhood. You will feel as though you had escaped an awful doom, and you have, when cured by "Baco-Curo," for you feel like a new being. I never felt better in all my life than at this present writing. I did not know what was the matter with me, until informed by the agent. He told me what was the reason I could not do anything unless under the influence of the death-dealing poison found in cigarettes. I did not believe him at first, until he explained the action on the system.
There hought the goods and thank God and all concerned, I am a sound person to-day. Hoping there this may reach the unfortunate cigarette whereart, I remain.

[By a boy of 10 years. Genuine and verbatim.)

Bone's are the framework of the human body. If I had no bones in me, I should not have so much shape as I have now. If I had no bones in me, I should not have so much motion as I have now, and grandma would be glad, but I like to have motion. Bones give me motion because they are something hard for motion to cling to. If I had no bones, my brains, lungs, head and larger blood vessels would be lying around in me sort of looselike and might gethurted, but now the bones get hurted, but not much lest it is a hard hit. If my bones were burned, I should be all brittle, and you could crumble me up because all the animal would be out of me. If I was soak ed in a kind of acid, I should be limber. Teacher showed me some bones that had been soaked. I could tie a knot in one. I had rather be soaked than burned. Some of my bones don't grow snug to my other bones like the branches of a tree do, and I'm glad they don't, for if they did I couldn't play leapfrog and other good games I know. The reason they don't grow that way is because they have joints. Joints is good things to have in bones. There are three kinds. The ball and socket joint is like my shoulder joint. Teacher showed it to us, only is was the thigh of a cow. One end was round and smooth and whitish-that is the ball end. The other end is the socket. It is saucerlike and oils itself. Another joint is the hinge joint, like my elbow. It swings back and forth, oiling itself, and never creaks like the schoolroom door does. The other joint ain't much of a joint. It's in the skull and don't have no motion. All of my bones put together in their right places makes a skeleton. If I leave out any or put some in the wrong place, it win't no skeleton. Cripples and deformed people don't have no skeletons. Some animals have their skeletons on the outside. I'm glad I ain't them animals, for my skeleron like it is on the chart wouldn't look well on the outside.—San Francisco Impress.

"All right, sir," was the reply.

"Would it be agin the law fur me to rub my back agin the walls of that building.

"What's the matter with your back?" "Got a porous plaster on it, and it itches so that I can't keep my heels on the ground. I want to take off my coat and vest and back up to that rough wall. Would it be agin the law?''

"I dunno as it would be breaking any law," said the officer, "but I think I can put you on a better thing.'
"Thanks! What is it?"

"Down at the dock at the foot of this street you'll find a spile all splintered up and driven full of nails and pieces of scrap iron. It's handy to back up to and the place is not quite so public as this."
"All right--much obleeged. I'll go down and try her, and if she works all right I'll recommend her to my friends when they happen to be in town. A Poor Performance—sharpers Take a Day Off-Running by a Sheriff-Cow-Boy Dash Through Academy Avenue The Wyoming Wild West show on the Pleasure Grounds, y. sterday, disappointed a large crowd in the afterthe evening the attendance was

Knowing that a bad gang of sharpers and scoundrels traveled with the show, the police were on the alert, but no swindling games were attempted. A wheel of fortune was set up, but Captain Grier forbade its bε-Ing run.

In order to reach Middletown from Ellenville, the show train was run through Summitville, where a Sulliwan county deputy sheriff was waitifing to seize it, at the rate of twenty-

Zour miles an hour, The showmen were a tough lot, but the only disturbance they created was when a gang of them, balf drunk, rode through Academy avenue about 10:30, last night, shouting loudly and firing revolvers. No arrests were

THE ERIE'S NEW TIME TABLE.

Some of the Changes That Will Be Made-A New Local West Bound

Among the changes which will take place when the new Erie time table goes into effect, on June 9th, will be the following: Train 38, the Scranton Express, Train 2, which now leaves here at IR:53, will leave at 5:05.

Train 17, the milk, which now ar mirres at 7.47 a. m., will, under the new arrangement, arrive at 7:10 a.m. Train No. 1 will arrive at 11 a. m , or twenty-five minutes earlier than at present, It will stop only at principal stations, and will be a Train No. 9 is a new local train, which will reach this city at 11:25, the old time of No. 1. Train 33 will be a Saturday half heliday train, leaving New York at 2 p. m., arriving here at 4 p. m. It will run only to Callicoon.

Train 7 will leave New York at 7 p. m. and arrive here at 9:05, or thirtyin- minutes later than formerly.

There will probably be other changes paiore the official cime card is Restled.

The change of time of No. 1 will make a corresponding change in the time of the departure of the Crawford Dranch train, which will leave here at 11..5.

The Hot Wave.

The not wave which reached here, resterday, increased in intensity to-day, though the fresh breez which blew during most of the day made life easily endurable to those who were able to get wnere they could be cooled and refreshed by it. Very high Lemperature is predicted for to-morrow, and despite the humidity of the atmosphere, rain is not predicted before Sunday, after which the thermometer may fall.

The Bass Season Opened,

A number of Middletowners tried to open the bass fishing season yesterday, but most of them had no luck. One angler caught a fine bass at Stony Ford and a few other good fish were taken, but the reports of most of the fishermen are that bass eren't biting yet.

Shot Through the Hand

A thirteen-year-old boy named Allison Sears was shooting fish in the cemetery pond, yesterday afternoon, with a revolver, when the weapon was prematurely discharged and a pellet passed through his left hand from side to side, just above the knuckles, inflicting an uzly wound.

Annual Meetlog of the Ladies' Schubert Tub

Food, when it sours on the stomach, secomes linutritive and unwholesome. It poisons the blood, and both mind and body suffer in consequence. What is needed to restore perfect digestion is a dose or two of Ayer's Pills. They never fail to reEAGLES' CLAM BAKE.

Liberally Patronized and a First Class Bake.

The clam bake given by Eagle Hose Company at Midway Park, yes terday and last night, was a decided success although it was not fully up noon with a poor performance, but in to the expectations of some of the members of the company from a financial stand point.

If the heat had been less intense, doubtless more people would have felt inclined to partake of hot clams, chicker, fish, etc., and the receipts would have been greater, but as it was the members of the company are well satisfied.

They are especially pleased because of the fact that the bake, which was under the direction of Ward Edwards, was as near perfect as was possible, and gave satisfaction to all who partook of it. Everything was 'done to a turn," and the service was admirable. These facts will be borne in mind if Eagles ever give another bake.

A CASE OF SUNSTROKE.

Overcome While Returning From the Exercises at Phillipsburg Cemetery.

Mr. Harry Terwilliger, one of the aids of Marshall Da ton, yesterday, while returning from the Phillipsburgh Cemetery to Midway Park, was overcome by the hea, and fell to the ground insensible.

He was carried to the Park and put on board a car and brought to his home in this city where he soon revived. He is able to be about today but is still suffering from the effects of the attack.

THAT LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Is Daily Curing Backache, Dizziness, Faintness, Irregularity, and all Fomale Complaints.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY BEADERS.] Intelligent women no longer doubt the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It speedily relieves irregularity, suppressed or painful menstruations, weakness of the stomach, indigestion, bloating, leucorrhea, womb trouble, flooding, nervous prostration, headache, general debility, etc. Symptoms of Womb Troubles are dizziness, faintness, extreme lassi-tude, "don't care," and "vant to be left alone" feelings, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, flatu-lency, melancholy, or the "blues," and backache. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege-table Compound will correct all this trouble as sure as the sun shines. That Bearing-Down Feeling, causing pain, weight, and backache, is instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it acts in perfect harmony with the laws that govern the female system, is as harmless as water. It is wonderful for Kidney Complaints in either sex.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills work in unison with the Compound, and are a sure cure for constipution and sickheadache. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash is frequently found of great value for local application. Correspondence is freely solicited by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co, Lynn, Mass., and the strictest confidence assured. All druggists sell the Pinkham remedies. The Vegetable Compound in three forms,—Liquid, Pills, and Lozenges.
